6. Small arms produced :

Carbines, Mossin model
 Submachine guns, PPSCH model
 Pistols, TT and Nagant models
 Machine guns, Maxim model
 Light machine guns, Degtyarev model

7. Raw materials :

Semi-manufactured products and semi-finished small-caliber barrels came from the Soviet Union. Boring, grinding and adjusting of the barrels was completed in the plant. Finished rifle bayonets came from the Soviet Union and were fixed to the rifles in the plant. An accessories plant in Warsaw-Praga supplied weapon accessories (rings, sling hooks). All wooden parts, as well as cartridge clips for automatic weapons and bolts for machine guns, were manufactured in the plant itself. It was planned to manufacture the semi-finished products which were then delivered to the plant. There was a shortage of machinery.

8. Shipments :

The finished products were shipped to the army depot at ul. Jagiellonska, Warsaw-Praga, near the railroad bridge. The weapons were distributed from this depot to troop units.

9. The plant had spur tracks.

10. The sketch is inaccurate, as can be seen by comparison with the corresponding section of the 1939 Warsaw City Plan (Annex 2). No weapon or ammunition plants were in this sector of the city before the war, but there were other industrial plants and an ammunition dump, an army corps uniform depot and receiving center for artillery material.

3. Annexes : PFK - Państwowa Fabryka Karabinów in Warsaw.
